ODELL

Though pronounced Odle not O-dell by the family, this is, or was, frequently written O'Dell as if it were a Gaelic name, especially in the eighteenth century though the Gaelic order was then at its lowest ebb ; but in fact it was rather a Catholic than a Gaelic submergence, for those Gaelic families which had accepted Protestantism were not ashamed of their Gaelic origin, so perhaps the gaelicization of the English name Odell is understandable in Ireland. It has been chiefly connected with Co. Limerick. According to their own family record the senior branch (now seated at Kilcleagh, Moate, Co. Westmeath) obtained their extensive estates in Co. Limerick by a patent of 1667. There were, however, people of the name, presumably relatives, well established in Co. Limerick some time before that: apart from army officers, we find in the 1659 "census" John Odell, gent, resident at Pallice (parish of Ballingarry), and Edward O'Dell, gent, near Askeaton. The former was one of the Inquisition jurors for the barony of Connello in 1654 — of the 46 jurors named for that barony only six are not of old Limerick Gaelic or Norman families. This man's name is also spelt Odle. He was among the gentlemen appointed as officers to lead the militia to be raised in Co. Limerick in 1659 and later he was High Sheriff of Limerick in 1677 and 1679. References to the name are numerous in eighteenth century records, chiefly in Co. Limerick; but a number of wills in the Waterford diocesan archives show a connexion with that part of Munster, while the Kenmare rentals indicate that Odells were strong farmers in Kerry also.

ODLUM

The older form of this name, Adlum, has been recorded in comparatively recent times in Co. Offaly. This, as Adelem (later Adlam), is on record in England since the twelfth century: it is derived, according to Reaney, from the Old-German adelelm (noble protector). As Odlum it appears in Ireland in the seventeenth century: Thomas Odlum was one of 29 soldiers disbanded from Ormond's own troop in 1662 (in one place the name is spelt Oldum presumably by a mistranscription). The family settled in King's Co. (Co. Offaly) and there are many Odlum wills listed from 1735, the testators up to 1800 being variously described as "farmer" and "gent" and all of that county. Three Odlums are in the Earl of Charleville's King's Co. rental of 1763. Later they were found also in Co. Leix, but Griffith's Valuation of the 1850's and modern voters' lists confirm that they are very definitely of Co. Offaly ever since they first came to Ireland. The name is very well known in the flour milling industry.

PALMER

Palmer is a name of Norman origin — Old-French le paumer, i.e. the palmer or pilgrim. It is of very frequent occurrence in Anglo-Norman records in Ireland from the thirteenth century. In those early times it was not associated with any particular part of the country, and few Irish Palmers of the present day can claim descent from these mediaeval immigrants. Families of the name were definitely established as landed proprietors both in Kerry and in Meath (later Kildare) in the seventeenth century. Today it is fairly numerous only in east Ulster and in the city of Dublin.

Palmer has sometimes been used as an anglicized form of Ó Maolfhoghmhair (Mullover); but it is essentially an English name. There are 57 Palmers in the Dictionary of National Biography, only two of whom have Irish connexions: one a British colonial politician who happened to be born in Ireland and the other the celebrated Dublin beauty Eleanor Ambrose (c. 1720-1818), who married Sir Roger Palmer of Mayo and Dublin.

THROUGH THE YEARS

Mishawaka home to future industrialists

Leaders of Deere, Oliver Plow both raised in city

Elwood F. "Woody" Curtis, shown in his Mishawaka High School senior class photo, went on to become president of Deere and Co.

Both Deere and Co. and the Oliver Chilled Plow Works have been headed by men who were born and reared in Mishawaka. Many readers know that one of these corporate heads was Joseph D. Oliver (1850-1933), whose stately home, Copshaholm, on West Washington Street in South Bend is now open to the public.

In general, though, only local relatives and boyhood friends of his will know that Elwood "Woody" Curtis (1914-1993), a native of Mishawaka, headed the company founded by the famous plowmaker John Deere. As a matter of fact, he was the first chief operating officer of that company who was not a descendant of Deere. He held the title of president from 1964 to 1979 and was chief operating officer from 1975 to 1979, when he was forced to accept partial retirement because of severe arthritis.

Both men were born in Mishawaka's "northside." Oliver was born on what is now Mishawaka Avenue (then called St. Joseph Street). Curtis was born at 714 Chestnut St. in the same neighborhood.

When Joseph Oliver was two years old, his family moved to a better home at West Fourth and West streets. This 10-acre property included a large apple orchard. The new Lakeshore and Michigan Southern Railroad adjoined the southern side of the property.

When "Woody" Curtis was 13, his family moved to a new brick home across Linden Street from the new Mishawaka High School. His father had come to Mishawaka as the "energetic" agent of the American Railway Express. In 1918 his father joined the staff of the First National Bank of Mishawaka.

Both lads attended the public schools of Mishawaka. Young Oliver attended the prep school at the University of Notre Dame for a while. After graduating from Mishawaka High School, Curtis attended Notre Dame for two years before transferring to Dartmouth College in New Hampshire, where he majored in accounting and business management. While working for the Chicago accounting firm of Hawkins and Sells, where he was assigned to the Deere and Co. account, Curtis accepted an offer to join Deere and Co. permanently.

Through the Years is a Michiana history column coordinated by Mary Renshaw from the Northern Indiana Center for History. For more information about the column, write the NICH, 808 W. Washington St., South Bend, IN 46601.

Joseph Oliver had worked in his father's foundry during school vacations, but on his 17th birthday in 1867, he started his full-time career as an apprentice bookkeeper in the plow business for which his father, James, had been a founding partner. This was not his father's idea. James wanted to start his son out in the foundry, but in 1867 James was not the boss of the company.

Back in 1864, the leading industrialist in St. Joseph County, George Milburn (who had been James Oliver's neighbor in Mishawaka), decided to become his partner and mentor. Milburn was impressed by the quality of James Oliver's plows and his talent for salesmanship with farmers.

George Milburn was delighted with young Joseph Oliver's aptitudes in the areas of accounting and industrial management, and insisted that he be trained in those areas, not in the foundry. When Milburn left the plow company in 1870, young Joseph put his management skills to work for the company. Joseph became president in 1908 and headed the business until 1929.

Local historian Merle D. Blue is a retired Mishawaka High School history and government teacher. For those who would like to know more about Deere and Co., which is still going strong, and the role that "Woody" Curtis played in the company's prosperity from the late 1950s to 1979, read W.G. Broehl Jr.'s book "John Deer's Company" (Doubleday and Co., 1984).

"You know how writers are; they're always making mental notes," Wilson, 54, said during a recent afternoon stroll through the area. "There are scenes in the first book that came right out of things I saw when I was just walking around the neighborhood; in fact, a couple of very stark images."

Like the time Wilson was walking up Larrabee Street and saw, through an open window, an emaciated man clad only in a diaper struggling with his walker to cross his living room to get to the refrigerator. He probably had AIDS, Wilson said.

"It's such a sort of stark, heart-rending image," recalled Wilson. "To me, it worked as a perfect moment in the book, so I used it."

Wilson, whose longtime partner died of AIDS in 1987, hadn't planned on having the disease play a significant role in the first book.

"But when I started writing, all this stuff from the past put itself down on the page, and it just seemed to become an issue that I haven't been able to escape," he said. "I really think it's so deeply embedded in the emotional fabric of every gay man who came through the '80s and survived it that it's difficult in some ways to keep it out of your story if the material is personal."

Wilson, who has taught writing at the University of California, Los Angeles Extension Writers' Program since 1982, also is the supervising writer for "Anatomy of Crime," a weekly, one-hour documentary scheduled to begin airing on Court TV early next year.

From the start, Wilson said, "I wanted to write a gay character and write him very honestly and truthfully. At the same time, I didn't want to write a gay character in which his being gay was the primary issue — that he was coming out or struggling with coming out. With Justice, he's gay and you'd better accept it because it's in your face, and that's the way he is, and that's the way I write it."

Indeed, in the new book, Justice finds himself gawking when he meets the handsome young associate producer on the AIDS series:

"As he stood — in shorts, T-shirt and sandals — I saw a body of average height that was compact but lean, with silky golden hair sprinkled generously along his firmly muscled legs and forearms. If there was anything imperfect about him, I didn't see it."

"For me to tiptoe around the sexuality when everything else is so frankly written would not fit the style of the book. I'm not writing the book worrying about people's comfort level. I'm writing the book in the way it feels right to me in telling the story and creating a world. And where does sexuality fit in within this world? Well, it has a natural place within it."

phy" by Natalie Angier (Houghton Mifflin, $25)— Angier won a Pulitzer for previous books on biology. She has been described as someone who "writes like Walt Whitman crossed with Erma Bombeck," and this time around, Angier wants everyone to understand exactly how a woman's body works.

"Black Hawk Down: A Story of Modern War" by Mark Bowden (Atlantic Monthly Press, $24)— This is an unjustly overlooked study of the 1993 U.S. military operation in Mogadishu that resulted in 18 dead American soldiers and subsequent horrifying film footage of their bodies being dragged through the streets.

"Embracing Defeat: Japan in the Wake of World War II" by John W. Dower (W.W. Norton, $29.95)— After the Japanese surrender, there were no magic buttons to push to restore economic health and moral starch to the devastated island nation. Dower makes history read like a gripping novel.

"Places Left Unfinished at the Time of Creation" by John Phillip Santos (Viking, $24.95)— The Mexican-American journalist traces his family history, providing lots of insights into modern Hispanic culture along the way.

Prediction: Dower will likely win — and probably should. His track record is more impressive than Bowden's. But "Black Hawk Down" is an awfully good book.

Nominated poets include Louise Gluck, "Vita Nova"; Ai, "Vice: New and Selected Poems"; Clarence Major, "Configurations"; Sherod Santos, "The Pilot Star Elegies"; and C.K. Williams, "Repair."

Children's authors up for awards are Louise Erdrich, "The Birchbark House"; Laurie Halse Anderson, "Speak"; Kimberly Willis Holt, "When Zachary Beaver Came to Town"; Polly Horvath, "The Trolls"; and Walter Dean Myers, "Monster."

I would like a brief descendancy or ancestor chart to add to my files. This lets me help others interested in the family.

My line is stopped at Frederick E. Marlatt and wife Sarah —— whose son John was born c 1844 probably Ontario. John married Rebecca Ann Stringer, dau. of Henry Stringer of Elgin Co, Ontario. John + Rebecca lived in Shiawassee Co, MI where he died Sept 1880 - two months after my grandfather John Jay was born.

If you happen to have any other information on any Melot, Marlatt etc, I would be glad to have a copy. My files are pretty complete to the 1820's or so and I am trying to continue them.

If I can help in any other way, please feel free to write.

Sincerely,
Kay Braddock

Barbara Bowlus Beck

April 21, 1997

Dear Be,

I looked through my files to see if I could discover what all I had sent you about the Odles before. I believe these papers are the ones. I there was anything else I sent before that you'd like again, please let me know.

I have been sporadically working on a "book": Odles of Warren County, Indiana that I hope someday to have ready to share. I am enclosing a copy of the page for Nancy Odle Southard Marlow. Do you have more information on this family? If so, would you please "fill-in-the-blanks" and return the form to me? Thanks!

I"ll be sure and let you know when I get the book printed.

Sincerely,

Barbara Beck

[illegible] No. 47, Elections.

Last Saturday Kenesaw Post, No. 47, G. A. R., Independence, elected the following named persons officers of the Post for the new term: Wm. Harvey, Post Commander; Wm. Ketchum, Sen. Vice-Commander; Bestana Munson, Jun. Vice-Commander; John W. Edwards, Adjutant; Peter Sibbrel, Quartermaster; John M. Whickcar, Chaplain; Peyton Melton, O. D.; Jacob Ludrick, O. G.; W. Ketchum, Representative to D. P. Encampment; Austin Edmonds, Alternate. The following mortuary report is respectively reported: Alonzo N. Porter, age 50; private of Co. F, 72d Ind. Vols.; died April 20, 1895. Abel Brown, aged 63; musician of Co. C, 86th Ills. Regt.; died October 18, 1895.

JOHN W. EDWARDS, Post Adjt.

When Dr. DeLancy winked at us the other day we did not exactly understand his wink. Later on another fellow gave us the wink and we were inclined to get mad. But when all our friends began winking we thought it was the fad, and so the next person we met we winked with both eyes at her and she said, what, not twins at your home again! No, thunder woman, NO! I could n't understand what was in the wind. But an opposition doctor who did not like Dr. DeLancey a little bit told us all about it and set us right. He told us that sometime Thursday Orlando Lemebus Winks, our next door neighbor two streets away, had fallen heir to a daughter, No. 2, and he was celebrating the event by purchasing a fine suit of Sunday broadcloth. We now understand the remark he recently made to a friend very confidentially when he informed him he was going to take a child to raise. We thought all the time he was going to buy one from the Home. Here's to you and yours brother Winks and may your squalls on life's voyage never be worse. May you live to see your house, cellar, front yard and back yard filled with your progmy, happy, fat and sassy.

The Musical Club of this place met last Saturday night at the home of Miss Lottie High. At that meeting the Club elected the following officers: Miss Ella Sutton, President; Miss Lois Fleming, Vice President; Miss Louise Kadel, Secretary. The regular night of meeting is Saturday every two weeks.

A New Industry.

John Moliere last Saturday shipped from this place to Indianapolis a car load of oil barrels. He makes a tour of the county every month buying the empty oil barrels of the grocers, bringing them to this place for shipment. He says at the price he is able to buy the barrels, he makes a living profit and ships them to the Standard Oil Company, which refills them with oil and than resells to the traders. Mr. M. has a wagon rack specially made in which he can haul a number of the barrels.

OBITUARY.

DAVID SOUTHARD.

Deceased was born in Ohio, August 15, 1842, and departed this life at his home, near Independence, Ind., December 5, 1895, age 53 years, 3 months, 20 days. His death was caused by lung fever. He was only confined to his bed one week; he leaves a wife and five children to mourn his loss. All through his illness everything that loving, untiring hands and a skillful physician could do was done. It seemed of no use—death came and took from us a dear husband and father. The remains were laid to rest in the Pine Village cemetery. A few appropriate remarks were made at the cemetery by Rev. Mr. Rodgers. He was united in marriage to Miss Nancy Odle, the eldest daughter of the late Thomas D. Odle, December 19, 1866. To this union eleven children were born, five of whom survive him. He was a kind, loving husband and father and friend, and was liked by all who knew him.

" 'Tis hard to break the tender cord
When love has bound the heart;
'Tis hard, so hard to speak the words—
'Must we forever part.' "

" Dearest loved one we have laid thee
In the peaceful grave's embrace;
But thy memory will be cherished,
'Till we see thy heavenly face."

" We miss thee from our home dear father,
We miss thee from thy place.
A shadow o'er our life is cast—
We miss the sunshine of thy face."

" We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without thee,
We miss thee everywhere."

Card of Thanks.

Our heartfelt thanks are tendered to the many friends, both here and at Pine Village, who so kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our dear husband and father.

A New Industry.

John Mahan last Saturday shipped from this place to Indianapolis a car load of oil barrels. He makes a tour of this county every month buying the empty oil barrels of the grocers, bringing them to this place for shipment. He says at the price he is able to buy the barrels he makes a fair profit and sells them to the Standard Oil Company, which refills them with oil and then resells to the trade. Mr. M. has a wagon rack specially made in which he can haul a big load of the barrels.

When Dr. Delaney winked at us the other day we did not exactly understand his move. Later on another fellow gave us the wink and we were inclined to get mad; but when all our friends began winking we thought it was the fad, and so the next person we met we winked with both eyes at her and she said, What, not twins at your house again! No, [illegible] woman, NO! I could n't understand what was in the wind. But an appreciative doctor who did not like Dr. Delaney a little told us all about it and set us right. He told us that sometime Thursday Orlando Lamabus Wicks, our next door neighbor, was [illegible] and fallen heir to a daughter, No. 2, and he was celebrating the event by purchasing a fine suit of Sunday broadcloth. We now understand the reason he recently spoke to a friend very confidentially when he informed him he was going to take a child to raise. We thought at the time he was going to buy one from the Home. Here's to you, and yours, brother Wicks, and may your sail on life's voyage never be rough. May you live to see your house, cellar, front yard and back yard filled with your progeny, happy, fat and sassy.

The Musical Club of this place met last Saturday night at the home of Miss Lottie Irwin. At that meeting the Club elected the following officers: Miss Ella Butler, President; Miss Lulu Fleming, Vice President; Miss Louisa Kabel, Secretary. The regular night of meeting is Saturday of each week.

Sudden Demise.

Rosa, the wife of Thomas Lemming, residing in Warren township, died last Sunday night after a few hours illness. She prepared dinner on the day of her death and had caught, killed and dressed a chicken for the meal, and appeared in usual health. Latter in the day, or possibly in the evening, she was taken suddenly ill and grew worse rapidly until death. She was about 40 years of age, and leaves a young babe about two weeks old. When she died there was no one with the family but the husband, and the news of her death was not known by the neighbors until Marion Kiger went to the residence Monday morning to engage Mr. L. to help in harvesting, when Mr. K. found Mr. L. keeping sad vigil over the dead form of his companion. There are many sad scenes in this life and this is one of the saddest.

David's + Nancy's

Bertha, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Southard, of Liberty, aged 15 months, after a brief illness of a few hours died from congestion of the stomach and lungs, Friday night at 10 o'clock, July 15th, 1887. She was taken ill at 10 o'clock a. m. on Thursday last, after eating a hearty breakfast, and had been playing about the house that morning, apparently in her usual health. Remains were interred in the cemetery at Pine Village last Sunday. This is the fifth child Mr. and Mrs. Southard have buried; they have four living. Dr. A. V. Moore attended little Bertha.

Wheat is yielding a good average this year. Our grain men say they have purchased only one lot which yielded as low as 17 bushels per acre, which makes the average good.

Herman Long was out of town on the south side last Sunday afternoon, and as Mr. L. is rather a stranger in the vicinity outside the village, his long absence occasioned no little concern among the villagers with whom he is usually to be seen on such days.

Birthday Surprise.

Last Saturday was the 18th birthday of Miss Luetta Vanderbilt, and her parents decided to make her a surprise party. Nothing was done or said in her presence to indicate their intentions and the party was purposely arranged for last Monday evening. Of course the services of Miss Luetta were required through the day at the store, and she was detained with her duties at the store until after seven o'clock. Arriving at home she found her young friends had taken possession and having a good time, and then it was the truth dawned upon her. It was indeed a surprise to her and a pleasant party for the young folks. Ice cream, lemonade, cakes, candies, nuts, &c., &c., were the order at 10 o'clock and games came between times. All took leave of Miss V. wishing her many returns of the day.

Levi Cobb is slowly improving but is unable to leave the house.

Jacob Shank has opened a meat market north of the Falls House.

Mrs. Thomas Odle is reported better this week.

Dear Be,

Here in the information on the Dawson family and also on the Mellot family which ties into the Dawsons. This information was all given to me by other researchers.

The information on Rev. Thomas Odell that you found in the cemetery at Odell is very interesting. I looked through all my Odle/Odell files but I can't see how he could be related to our line.

The only Warren County resources I have access to here at home are my Warren County cemetery inscription books. I looked up Southard but all I found were:

Mound Cemetery
Southard, Thomas W. 1876-1958
Anna N., wife of Thomas 1883-1960

Independence Cemetery
Southard, James S. 1871-1955
Carrie A. 1868-1944

Highland Cemetery
Southard, Russell 1930-
Mary 1932-

I am returning $2.00-- I didn't need all of the $5.00.

Sincerely,

Barbara

Mrs. Bob Elder, D 3 Ranch, Summer Lake, Oregon 97640 is trying to name and locate all of the graves in the cemetery in Paisley, Oregon. She reports that the work is going slowly, but with the help of many of the natives of the county and the 100F map of the cemetery many answers are found, but there are many graves marked "Unknown". Mrs. Elder would like to hear from anyone who knows of anyone who is, or even might be buried there. Also it would be appreciated if they could include some information of the person's parents, wife or husband, children, and dates -- if known.

DAWSON FAMILY

1. John Dawson. (9DA-2)

John Dawson, an early resident of the province of Maryland, arrived in that colony from Europe around the year 1672, or shortly before. Sometime after his arrival in Maryland, he settled in Charles County, where he had applied for and received a land grant. John, who was styled planter, was married in Maryland to Rebecca Doyne (9DA-3), the daughter of John Doyne. Tradition has it that John and Rebecca met aboard ship during the voyage to America, but that initially there were objections to their getting married because of differences in their religious beliefs. John, it appears, was of the Church of England, while Rebecca, a native of Ireland, was a Roman Catholic. John and Rebecca are reputed to have had seven children, however, only five have been identified with any certainty. John and Rebecca both passed away in Maryland.

3. Nicholas Dawson. (9D-8 & 9DA-1)

Nicholas Dawson is thought to have been born in Charles County, Maryland, where in about 1704 he was married to his first cousin, Mary Doyne (9D-9 & 9DB-1). Mary, who was born in Maryland in about 1682/83, was the daughter of Robert Doyne and Mary Stone. This Mary Stone was the daughter of William Stone, the first Protestant governor of Maryland. Nicholas and Mary were married at "Fendall's Delight," a plantation in Charles County which had been acquired by her father, Robert, shortly before his death in 1689. After their marriage, Nicholas and Mary lived for a time at "Fendall's Delight," but in 1710, they sold their interest in it, and in an adjoining plantation named "Lyon's Denn," to William and Sarah Doyne Hutchinson. Sarah was a sister to Mary.

At that time they moved to a plantation called "Saturday's Work," and it is there that they lived for the remainder of their lives. "Saturday's Work" was purchased by Robert Doyne in 1688, and was situated in that part of Charles County that eventually was made a part of Prince George's County. It is interesting to note that when "Saturday's Work" was first granted, the Lord Proprietor had offered those wishing to settle in Maryland all the land they could ride around in one day. James Bodkin, the original grantee, acquired this land in that manner on a Saturday, and hence the name "Saturday's Work." This plantation was situated approximately six miles south of present-day Washington, D.C.

Aside from "Saturday's Work," "Fendall's Delight," and "Lyon's Denn," Mary had also inherited several other plantations from her father, which she eventually left by will to her children. These were "Constant Friendship" along the Bush River in Baltimore County, "Spring Banks" in Somerset County, and "Sligo" in Prince George's County. In addition, Nicholas and Mary petitioned the proprietary government for the right to take up lands for which warrants had previously been issued to Robert Doyne, but which he had not executed. They were allowed to claim 2,000 acres "in any part of the Province not formerly laid out nor cultivated by any person, nor reserved for the use of his Lordship." A portion of this acreage was taken up near Port Tobacco in Charles County, however, it appears to have been sold shortly thereafter. The remainder was not taken up during Nicholas' lifetime, but was eventually acquired by his eldest son, John.

Nicholas Dawson died in 1727 in Prince George's County. Although he did not leave a will, an inventory of his estate was found to have been filed in the Upper Marlboro Courthouse on 22 August 1728. Mary Doyne, on the other hand, passed away in 1734 in Prince George's County, leaving a will dated 14 December 1734. This will was subsequently probated on 24 January 1734/35. Nicholas and Mary are believed to have both been buried on their home plantation, "Saturday's Work."

* 9. William

3 February 1769 to Robert Rose. This William is believed to be the William Dawson who married Elizabeth Melott (9D-3) in Frederick County in about 1763. Elizabeth was born in Frederick County, and was the daughter of Theodorus Melott and his wife, Catherine. In about 1769/70, William and Elizabeth moved to Pennsylvania where they settled in Spring Hill Township in Bedford County (now Fayette County), Pennsylvania. Later, in 1783, William appears on the tax lists for Westmoreland County, owning 80 acres of land and a small amount of livestock. Sometime during this period it is believed that Elizabeth Melott died. She is thought to have been the mother of at least three of William's children.

Issue from 1st marriage:

17. William --- b. ca. 1764 in Frederick Co., MD.
m. Hannah.
d. 1824 in Allegany Co., MD.

18. Benjamin -- b. ca. 1766 in Frederick Co., MD.

m. ca. 1788 to Richard Odell in Hampshire Co., VA.
d. 31 March 1841 in Warren Co., IN.
bur. Pine Village Cem., Adams Twp., Warren Co., IN.

In about 1785, William married for a second time, also to a woman named Elizabeth. They returned to Maryland in about 1787/88, where they settled in an area west of Cumberland in Allegany County. In 1801 he purchased land called "Clover Bottom" from James Dawson, which he subsequently left by will to his sons. William died in Allegany County, Maryland in 1802. His will was dated and also probated in that year.

Issue from 2nd marriage:

20. (   ) --- b. ca. 1788 in Allegany Co., MD.

11. Nicholas - b. ca. 1720 in Prince George's Co., MD.
m. Sarah Edelen in MD.

9. William Dawson. (9D-4)

William Dawson is thought to have been born about 1710-1712 in Prince George's County, Maryland. Shortly before his mother passed away in 1734, William married Elizabeth Marbury (9D-5), the daughter of Francis Marbury and his first wife, Mary Greene. Elizabeth had also been born in Prince George's County, Maryland. Although William inherited a one-half interest in the Somerset County plantation called "Spring Banks," there is no evidence to indicate that he ever resided there. Instead, it is believed that William remained in Prince George's County until his death in 1756. Unfortunately, no will has been found, suggesting that he probably died intestate. An inventory of his estate was filed, however, and bond was given on 14 October 1756 by John Dawson, John Harris, Jr., and Andrew Hilton.

13. William Dawson. (9D-2)

William Dawson was born in 1738 in Prince George's County, Maryland, and evidently remained in that county until shortly after his father passed away in 1756. Two of William's uncles, Thomas and George, had previously moved into Frederick County, Maryland, and William evidently decided to join them there. In 1760 he purchased a plantation in Frederick County called "Well Wishes," which he later sold on

If your search results did not turn out as you hoped, try the following:

- In general, search on synonyms. Also double-check your spelling to make sure you didn't mistype the words you are trying to locate. Another option is to try a less restrictive request. For example, rather than searching on "census records Cook County Illinois," you could try the more general "census Illinois."
- For names, be sure to try alternate spellings. Also try searching only on a last name rather than a full name.
- When looking for states, be sure to search on both the abbreviation and spelled-out name. If you are searching for a county, leave off "County" and only search for the county name. Also remember that the boundaries and names of counties, states, and countries have changed over time, so you may need to search on either an older or more modern name to find what you are seeking. Your local library or genealogy society may have maps that can help you determine if this is the case for the locations you are researching.
- If you received too many matches, try a more specific search. For example, if you are searching for a name, add a location if it makes sense to do so. Or, instead of searching on a state, try searching on a county within that state. Sometimes looking at the results of your search can help you decide how to narrow it down.
